PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

H.R. 3127 addresses the humanitarian crisis in the Darfur region of Sudan by imposing sanctions against individuals engaged in genocide, war crimes, and crimes against humanity. This legislation also promotes peace efforts in the Darfur region. The provisions of H.R. 3127 that are within the jurisdiction of the Judiciary Committee would make inadmissible certain individuals complicit in, or responsible for, acts of genocide, war crimes, or crimes against humanity in Darfur, Sudan.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR THE LEGISLATION

There is an ongoing genocide of non-Arab tribes in the Darfur region of Sudan. Reports by refugees detail a systematic pattern of attacks against civilians by government-supported militias, collectively known as the Janjaweed, who have employed scorched earth tactics backed by air and land strikes by Sudanese government forces. Entire villages have been razed, crops burned, and wells and irrigation systems destroyed. There are widespread reports of arbitrary killings, abductions, looting, torture, and rape. Between 180,000 and 400,000 already have died and over two million have been displaced. On July 22, 2004 the House of Representatives passed H.Con.Res. 467, which recognized that genocide is occurring in the Darfur region.

H.R. 3127 requires that the U.S. deny visas and entry to any individual who is complicit in, or responsible for, acts of genocide, war crimes, or crimes against humanity in Darfur, including family members or any associates of such individuals to whom assets or property was improperly transferred on or after July 1, 2002 (designed to deny entry to family members/associates of war profiteers). A waiver from these requirements is available if the President determines it to be in the national interest.

United Nations Security Council Resolution 1591¹ provides that all countries shall take necessary measures to prevent entry into or transit through their territories of certain individuals designated by a Security Council committee who impede the peace process in Darfur, constitute a threat to stability in Darfur and the region, commit violations of international humanitarian or human rights law or other atrocities in Darfur, violate an arms embargo against all non-governmental entities in Darfur (as provided in U.N. Security Council Resolution 1556²) or who are responsible for offensive military overflights in Darfur by the Sudanese government. While Security Council resolutions do not possess the force of law or bind Congress, this bill can be viewed as implementing legislation for Resolution 1556. Current immigration law already makes inadmissible aliens who have committed genocide, torture, or extra-judicial killings,³ or whose entry would have potentially serious adverse foreign policy consequences for the United States.⁴

On March 15, 2006, the Committee met in open session and ordered favorably reported the bill H.R. 3127 by voice vote, a quorum being present.

VOTE OF THE COMMITTEE

In compliance with clause 3(b) of Rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee notes that there were no recorded votes during Committee consideration of H.R. 3127.

COMMITTEE OVERSIGHT FINDINGS

In compliance with clause 3(c)(1) of Rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee reports that the findings and recommendations of the Committee, based on oversight activities under clause 2(b)(1) of rule X of the Rules of the House of Representatives, are incorporated in the descriptive portions of this report.

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE COST ESTIMATE

In compliance with clause 3(c)(3) of Rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee sets forth, with respect to the bill, H.R. 3127, the following estimate and comparison prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office under section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974:

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, March 20, 2006.

Hon. F. JAMES SENSENBRENNER, Jr., Chairman,
Committee on the Judiciary,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 3127, the Darfur Peace and Accountability Act of 2006.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contact is Sam Papenfuss, who can be reached at 226-2840.

Sincerely,

DOUGLAS HOLTZ-EAKIN.

Enclosure

cc: Honorable John Conyers, Jr.
Ranking Member

H.R. 3127—Darfur Peace and Accountability Act of 2006.

H.R. 3127 would impose sanctions on certain individuals associated with the government of Sudan or with militias operating in Sudan. The bill also would prohibit the provision of foreign assistance to countries that provide military assistance to Sudan, except when that assistance is for humanitarian reasons. Additionally, the bill would direct the President to use our influence and vote at both the United Nations and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to encourage those organizations to provide additional support to the African Union Mission in Sudan. Finally, the bill would require the Department of State to provide reports dealing with the African Union Mission in Sudan.

CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 3127 would not have a significant impact on the Federal budget. H.R. 3127 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act and would not affect the budgets of state, local, or tribal governments.

On March 20, 2006, CBO transmitted an estimate for H.R. 3127 as reported by the House International Relations Committee on March 14, 2006. The estimates for the two versions of the bill are identical.

The CBO staff contact is Sam Papenfuss who can be reached at 226–2840. This estimate was approved by Peter H. Fontaine, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

PERFORMANCE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

The Committee states that pursuant to clause 3(c)(4) of Rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, H.R. 3127 would make inadmissible certain individuals complicit in, or responsible for, acts of genocide, war crimes, or crimes against humanity in Darfur, Sudan.

CONSTITUTIONAL AUTHORITY STATEMENT

Pursuant to clause 3(d)(1) of Rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee finds the authority for this legislation in art. I, § 8, cl. 3 of the Constitution.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS AND DISCUSSION

This following section by section analysis discusses the provisions of H.R. 3127 within the jurisdiction of the Judiciary Committee.

Section 5. Sanctions in Support of Peace in Darfur.

Section 5(a) of the bill amends section 6 of the Comprehensive Peace in Sudan Act of 2004 (Pub. L. No. 108–497) by creating a new subsection (c) of section 6. Paragraph (2) of subsection (c) provides that beginning on the date that is 30 days after the date of enactment, the President shall deny visas and entry to any individual who the President determines is complicit in, or responsible for, acts of genocide, war crimes, or crimes against humanity in Darfur, including the family members or any associates of such individuals to whom assets or property of such individual transferred on or after July 1, 2002.

Section 5(b) of the bill amends section 6(d) of the Comprehensive Peace in Sudan Act of 2004 by providing that the President may waive the application of the entry ban with respect to an individual if the President determines it to be in the national interest of the United States (and, prior to exercising the waiver, transmits to the appropriate congressional committees a notification that includes the name of the individual and the reasons for the waiver).

Section 5(c) of the bill requires the President to immediately consider imposing the entry ban against the Janjaweed commanders and coordinators identified by the former U.S. Ambassador-at-Large for War Crimes before the Subcommittee on Africa of the International Relations Committee on June 24, 2004.

CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW MADE BY THE BILL, AS REPORTED

The bill was referred to this Committee for consideration of such provisions of the bill and amendment as fall within the jurisdiction of this committee pursuant to clause 1(l) of Rule X of the Rules of the House of Representatives. The changes made to existing law by the amendment reported by the Committee on International Relations are shown in the report filed by that committee (H. Rept. No. 109–392, Part 1).

22 Congress makes the following findings:

23 (1) On July 22, 2004, the House of Representa-
24 tives and the Senate declared that the atrocities occur-
25 ring in the Darfur region of Sudan are genocide.

1 (2) On September 9, 2004, Secretary of State
2 Colin L. Powell stated before the Committee on For-
3 eign Relations of the Senate, “genocide has been com-
4 mitted in Darfur,” and “the Government of Sudan
5 and the [Janjaweed] bear responsibility—and geno-
6 cide may still be occurring”.

7 (3) On September 21, 2004, in an address before
8 the United Nations General Assembly, President
9 George W. Bush affirmed the Secretary of State’s
10 finding and stated, “[a]t this hour, the world is wit-
11 nessing terrible suffering and horrible crimes in the 12 Darfur region of Sudan, crimes my government has 13 concluded are genocide”.

14 (4) On July 30, 2004, the United Nations Secu-
15 rity Council passed Security Council Resolution
16 1556, calling upon the Government of Sudan to dis-
17 arm the Janjaweed militias and to apprehend and 18 bring to justice Janjaweed leaders and their associates
19 who have incited and carried out violations of human
20 rights and international humanitarian law, and es-
21 tablishing a ban on the sale or supply of arms and 22 related materiel of all types, including the provision
23 of related technical training or assistance, to all non-24 governmental entities and individuals, including the 25 Janjaweed.

1 (5) On September 18, 2004, the United Nations
2 Security Council passed Security Council Resolution
3 1564, determining that the Government of Sudan had
4 failed to meet its obligations under Security Council
5 Resolution 1556, calling for a military flight ban in 6 and over the Darfur region, demanding the names of 7 Janjaweed militiamen disarmed and arrested for ver-
8 ification, establishing an International Commission
9 of Inquiry on Darfur to investigate violations of 10 international humanitarian and human rights laws,
11 and threatening sanctions should the Government of 12 Sudan fail to fully comply with Security Council
13 Resolutions 1556 and 1564, including such actions as 14 to affect Sudan's petroleum sector or individual mem-
15 bers of the Government of Sudan.

16 (6) The Report of the International Commission
17 of Inquiry on Darfur, submitted to the United Na-
18 tions Secretary-General on January 25, 2005, estab-
19 lished that the "Government of the Sudan and the 20 Janjaweed are responsible for serious violations of 21 international human rights and humanitarian law
22 amounting to crimes under international law," that 23 "these acts were conducted on a widespread and sys-
24 tematic basis, and therefore may amount to crimes
25 against humanity," and that Sudanese officials and

1 other individuals may have acted with “genocidal in-
2 tent”.

3 (7) The Report of the International Commission
4 of Inquiry on Darfur further notes that, pursuant to 5 its mandate and in the course of its work, the Com-
6 mission had collected information relating to indi-
7 vidual perpetrators of acts constituting “violations of 8 international human rights law and international
9 humanitarian law, including crimes against human-
10 ity and war crimes” and that a sealed file containing

12 and establishing a Committee of the Security Council
13 and a Panel of Experts to assist in monitoring com-

15 1591.

20 Court and calling on the Government of Sudan and 21 all parties to the conflict to cooperate fully with the 22 Court.

23 (11) In remarks before the G-8 Summit on June 24 30, 2005, President Bush reconfirmed that “the vio-

1 lence in Darfur is clearly genocide” and “the human
2 cost is beyond calculation”.

3 (12) On July 30, 2005, Dr. John Garang de
4 Mabior, the newly appointed Vice President of Sudan

7 killed in a tragic helicopter crash in southern Sudan,
8 sparking riots in Khartoum and challenging the com-
9 mitment of all Sudanese to the Comprehensive Peace
10 Agreement for Sudan.

11 (13) Since 1993, the Secretary of State has de-
12 termined that the Republic of Sudan is a country
13 which has repeatedly provided support for acts of 14 international terrorism and, pursuant to section 6(j)
15 of the Export Administration Act of 1979, section 40
16 of the Arms Export Control Act, and section 620A of 17 the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, designated Sudan
18 as a State Sponsor of Terrorism, thereby restricting
19 United States assistance, defense exports and sales,
20 and financial and other transactions with the Gov-
21 ernment of Sudan.

22 SEC. 4. SENSE OF CONGRESS.

23 It is the sense of Congress that—

24 (1) the genocide unfolding in the Darfur region
25 of Sudan is characterized by acts of terrorism and

1 atrocities directed against civilians, including mass
2 murder, rape, and sexual violence committed by the
3 Janjaweed and associated militias with the com-
4 plicity and support of the National Congress Party-
5 led faction of the Government of Sudan;

6 (2) the Secretary of State should designate the 7 Janjaweed militia as a foreign terrorist organization
8 pursuant to section 219 of the Immigration and Na-
9 tionality Act;

10 (3) all parties to the conflict in the Darfur re-
11 gion have continued to violate the N'djamena
12 Ceasefire Agreement of April 8, 2004, and the Abuja
13 Protocols of November 9, 2004, and violence against 14 civilians, humanitarian aid workers, and personnel of 15 the African Union Mission in Sudan (AMIS) is in-

3 the expansion of the African Union Mission in Sudan
4 so that it achieves the size, strength, and capacity
5 necessary for protecting civilians and humanitarian
6 operations, and ending the continued violence in the 7 Darfur region;

8 (6) if an expanded and reinforced African Union
9 Mission in Sudan fails to stop genocide in the Darfur
10 region, the international community should take ad-
11 ditional, dispositive measures to prevent and suppress 12 acts of genocide in the Darfur region;

13 (7) acting under Article 5 of the Charter of the 14 United Nations, the United Nations Security Council
15 should call for suspension of the Government of Su-

18 Sudan has honored pledges to cease attacks upon ci-
19 vilians, demobilize and demilitarize the Janjaweed
20 and associated militias, and grant free and unfettered

Chairman SENSENBRENNER. The Chair recognizes himself for 5 minutes to explain the bill.

This bill was introduced by International Relations Committee Chairman Hyde to combat the ongoing genocide of non-Arab tribes in the Darfur region of Sudan. Reports by refugees detail a systematic pattern of attacks against civilians by Government-sponsored militias, who have employed scorched-earth tactics backed by air and land strikes by Sudanese Government forces. Entire villages have been razed, crops burned, and wells and irrigation systems destroyed.

There are widespread reports of arbitrary killings, abductions, looting, torture, and rape. Between 180,000 and 400,000 have already died, and over 2 million have been displaced.

Section 5 of this bill falls within the jurisdiction of the Judiciary Committee and provides the basis for the Committee's sequential referral of this legislation. It requires that the U.S. deny visas and entry to any individual who is complicit in or responsible for acts of genocide, war crimes, or crimes against humanity in Darfur. This would include family members or any associates of such individuals to whom assets and property was improperly transferred on or after July 1, 2002, so that we can deny entry to family members or associates of profiteers. A waiver with respect to an individual is available if the President determines it to be in the national interest.

This section also provides that the President should consider imposing this sanction against Janjaweed commanders and coordinators identified by the former U.S. Ambassador at Large for War Crimes. I should note that the current immigration law already makes inadmissible aliens who have committed genocide, torture, or extrajudicial killings or whose entry would have potentially serious adverse foreign policy consequences for the United States.

This legislation reemphasizes and confirms the ability of the United States to deny entry to such criminals. I urge my colleagues to support this bill and recognize the gentleman from Michigan for whatever comments he wishes to make.

Mr. CONYERS. Mr. Chairman, I rise to enthusiastically support this measure, H.R. 3127, and I invite the gentlelady from Texas, I just wanted to know if she wanted any time so I could cut mine short if she was desirous.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. I would appreciate your kindness in some time, Mr. Ranking Member.

Mr. CONYERS. Thank you.

This Darfur Peace and Accountability Act of 2005, in my view, is something that might have been passed even earlier than now. I think we absolutely have to pass it at this time. The genocide there is an embarrassment to us, to the United Nations, and to the people on the planet. And so, it is my hope that with the support of the administration, which has supported sanctions, that we would be able to move this measure as quickly as we can.

But since the U.N. Security Council adopted calling for a travel ban for these perpetrators of heinous crime, not a single sanction has been imposed upon Sudanese officials or military members, and given the composition of the Security Council at the U.N., it seems unlikely that these sanctions will come any time soon.

And so, I am again appreciative to the Chairman of this Committee for allowing our staffs to work together and to bring this measure to the full membership at this time.

And I would yield to the distinguished gentlelady from Texas, Ms. Sheila Jackson Lee, who has been very deeply concerned about this matter.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Thank you very much, Mr. Conyers, and thank you for your leadership continually on this issue and thank the Chairman for his joining in the effective movement of this legislation and in support thereof.

This is what you call relief, and we may be the only body that can help in essence stem some of the vicious tide of murder and rape and pillage that is still going on in Sudan; in fact, plain genocide.

If I may just cite the January 2005 International Commission of Inquiry in Darfur submitted a report, and it provided a detailed accounting of atrocities committed by the Government of Sudan, the Janjaweed Militia, and concluded that the Government of Sudan and the Janjaweed were responsible for serious violations of international human rights and humanitarian law. The Commission found, however, that the Government of Sudan had not pursued, if you will, any efforts in stopping this violence.

I, too, believe that the Darfur Peace and Accountability Act of 2005 is a vital legislative initiative, and the amendment that we are putting forward today is crucial. In particular, what it provides is the opportunity for the administration to deny visas to those individuals who have been determined to have committed acts of genocide, war crimes, or crimes against humanity.

This is a convention that exists at the United Nations. Unfortunately, however, they have not been able to enforce this particular convention, and so, therefore, we may be, as I have said, the only hope. I would hope as we move forward in this issue we would also find broader ways to address the question of genocide in Sudan, and might I just conclude by saying, Mr. Chairman and Mr. Ranking Member, I attended a meeting with the Ambassador to the U.N. on Monday at the United Nations who would welcome a suggestion I made that we convene at the United Nations Members of Congress interested in this issue to highlight Sudan and to impress upon the United Nations to take a much stronger, forceful role in the cessation of genocide in Sudan.

I rise to support this amendment, and I thank the gentleman, and I yield back my time.

Chairman SENSENBRENNER. The time belongs to the gentleman from Michigan.

Mr. CONYERS. I return all unused time.

Chairman SENSENBRENNER. Without objection, all Members may place opening statements in the record at this point. Are there amendments?

[The prepared statement of Ms. Jackson Lee follows:]

PREPARED STATEMENT OF THE HONORABLE SHEILA JACKSON LEE, A REPRESENTATIVE
IN CONGRESS FROM THE STATE OF TEXAS

The Darfur Peace and Accountability Act of 2005, H.R. 3127, is a bipartisan effort to impose sanctions on the Government of Sudan, its officials, and the Janjaweed militia who have engaged in genocidal acts in the Darfur region of Sudan over the past two years.

On July 22, 2004, Congress passed a resolution which requested the Secretary General of the United Nations to establish an international commission of inquiry to investigate reports of violations of international humanitarian law and human rights law in Darfur, to determine whether or not acts of genocide had occurred, and to identify the perpetrators of such violations.

In late January 2005, the International Commission of Inquiry on Darfur submitted a report. The report provided a detailed accounting of atrocities committed by the Government of Sudan and its Janjaweed militia allies and concluded that the Government of Sudan and the Janjaweed were responsible for serious violations of international human rights and humanitarian law. The Commission found, however, that the Government of Sudan had not pursued a policy of genocide. According to the Commission, the crucial element of genocidal intent appeared to be missing.

I am surprised and disappointed by that report. I met a few days ago with U.S. Ambassador John R. Bolton and the President of the United Nations General Assembly about the role of the United Nations in combating human trafficking. I was impressed by their sincerity about wanting to deal with that horrendous problem. I am sure that they also condemn what is happening in Sudan.

H.R. 3127 has been referred to the Judiciary for consideration of Section 5 of the bill. This section would amend the Comprehensive Peace in Sudan Act of 2004 by denying visas to those in Sudan whom the President determines have committed acts of genocide, war crimes, or crimes against humanity. Currently, this Act imposes financial sanctions on senior officials of the Government of Sudan, but it does deny visas to them or to the Janjaweed leaders.

I support Section 5 of H.R. 3127, but I am concerned about the absence of a provision to challenge names that are mistakenly placed on the list. I worked on a constituent case a few years ago that illustrates why such a provision is necessary.

In a Presidential Proclamation dated January 14, 1998, President Clinton suspended the entry of persons who were or had been members of the military junta in Sierra Leone. The constituent's husband was a high ranking civil servant in the Government of Sierra Leone when the military junta occurred. He remained in that post until he could escape from Sierra Leone and travel to the United States to join his wife here. Nevertheless, his name was placed on the proclamation list. When he was refused admission to the United States, he requested an asylum hearing.

An immigration judge found him eligible for asylum on the ground that he had a well-founded fear of persecution in Sierra Leone, but the immigration judge concluded that he could not grant him asylum without violating the proclamation.

The constituent's husband was held in detention for several years, while fruitless efforts were made to challenge his inclusion on the proclamation list, and then he was deported to a country in the vicinity of Sierra Leone. From there, he was transferred to Sierra Leon. I have not heard from him since.

This unfortunate man was deported without a hearing of any kind on whether his name belonged on the proclamation list. I was going to offer an amendment to Section 5 that would require the President to establish a procedure for challenging the names that are placed on this list, but I have decided instead to work on a bill with my colleague Congressman Tom Lantos that would establish due process proceedings for challenging entries on every federal list of this type, not just the list that will be established pursuant to the provisions in Section 5.

In the meantime, I urge you to vote for Section 5 of H.R. 3127 to send a message to the Government of Sudan and the Janjaweed militia that we condemn the acts of genocide that they have committed.

Thank you.

If there are no amendments, a reporting quorum is not present. Without objection, the previous question—strike that for a second. Without objection, the version of the bill reported by the International Relations Committee and laid down as the base text is adopted. Hearing none, so ordered.

Now, a reporting quorum is not present. Without objection, the previous question is ordered on reporting the bill as amended by the base text, which has been agreed to.

[Intervening business.]

Chairman SENSENBRENNER. The question now occurs on the motion to report the bill H.R. 3127 favorably as amended by the Committee on International Relations, which is the base text. A reporting quorum is present.

All those in favor will say aye.

Opposed no.

The ayes appear to have it. The ayes have it, and the motion to report favorably is agreed to. Without objection, the staff is directed to make any technical and conforming changes, and all Members will be given 2 days as provided by the rules in which to submit additional dissenting, supplemental, or minority views.

[Intervening business.]

Chairman SENSENBRENNER. This concludes the items on the agenda. The Chair would like to thank everybody for their efficient processing of today's business, and without objection, the Committee stands adjourned.

[Whereupon, at 11:16 a.m., the Committee was adjourned.]
